Panelists: Carla Pederzini, Karla Valenzuela, Andrea Margarita Nuñez

In 2020, scholars and professionals committed to study and advocate for Human Rights of migrants, asylum seekers and refugees at Universidad Iberoamericana, got together to reflect upon the most important issues concerning migration in Mexico and suggest public policy actions to improve the conditions of people on the move in Mexico. The results of these gatherings are two documents that serve as a Statement of Purpose concerning migration policy in the country.

The purpose of this panel is to present our most recent Statement of Purpose, issued in May 2023, which analyzes the following topics: Government, State and law in contemporary migrations; The role of the media and government narratives; Migrant integration and Mexico as a destination and origin country; Mobility and its consequences on mental and emotional health; and Climate migration.
